

The grid with indices represents earth surface at scale $M=1:100$. Draw contourcurves passing through the given points of the grid. Check by means of cross-section passing through A and B, whether or not a 2 meter high observer standing at A can see the point B.

